Martina woke up on her birthday and ran excitedly downstairs.

"Happy birthday" exclaimed her Parents as they gave her a big hug.

They then pointed the to table, where there was a big piñata shaped like a pineapple. "We got you a surprise!" her dad said.

Martina ran over and tried to pick it up but it was so heavy she couldn't lift it! martina's excitement grew. "when can I try to open it?" she asked. "At your birthday party later" her mom said.

Flashforward four hours and Martina's birthday party is in full swing.

Martina is blindfolded a with baseball bat in her hand. Her dad spins her around three times and then encourages Martina try to hit the piñata. She swings once and completely missses. She swings second time and hits just the very tip of the Pineapple. Then she swings a third time, this time all with of her might. With a giant "WHAM", the pineapple busts open and candy goes fflying everywhere! Lollipops, Chocolate, Gummies... you name it! There is something for everyone Martina whips off her blindfold and joins her friends in trying to collect as much candy as possible. As she looks arounde at all her friends laughing and havving fun, she thinks to herself, "this is birthday that I'll never forget!"
