

Editing practice

Grade 5 Writing Worksheet

Edit the paragraph using these symbols:

Editing Key
 Make lowercase	 Remove word, letter or punctuation
 Capitalize	 Add punctuation
 Insert letter or word	 Spelling mistake
 Indent paragraph	 Change order of words or letters

High school and and college might seem like they're pretty similar, but their are actually some big Differences between them. In High school, you usually have have to go to the same building every day and you're schedule is planned out for you. Your teachers tell you what to do, and you have to follow alot of rules. You also see the same classmates all the time which can be fun but sometime you want to meet new people. In high school you learn a little bit about many subjects like math, english, science and History, so you get a wide range of knoledge.College is is a whole different ball Game! First of all you get to choose what you want to study. That means if you really love animals, you can take alot of science classes to become a veterinarian one day. In College, you're more in charge of your own schedule. Some days you might have just one class and other days you might have four! You also get to meet a lot of new people from different places because many students move away from home to go to college. With that freedom comes responsibility you have to make sure you get to class on time do your homework and study for exams all without someone telling you to do it. While you learn in both college and high school, it is clear that there are some big differences. The next time you're thinking about the difference between the two, remember that college has more freedom but it also comes with more responsibility.

Answers

Edits may vary.

High school and college might seem like they're pretty similar, but ~~there~~ ^{are} actually some big differences between them. In high school, you usually have ~~have~~ to go to the same building every day and ~~your~~ ^{your} schedule is planned out for you. Your teachers tell you what to do, and you have to follow ~~alot~~ ^{lots} of rules. You also see the same classmates all the time, which can be fun but sometimes you want to meet new people. In high school, you learn a little bit about many subjects like math, english, science and history, so you get a wide range of ~~knowledge~~ ^{knowledge}. College is ~~a~~ ^a whole different ball game! First of all, you get to choose what you want to study. That means if you really love animals, you can take ~~alot~~ ^{lots} of science classes to become a veterinarian one day. In college, you're more in charge of your ^rown schedule. Some days you might have just one class and other days you might have ~~for~~ ^{up to}! You also get to meet ~~of~~ ^{lots of} new people from different places because many students move away from home to go to college. With that freedom comes responsibility. you have to make sure you get to class on time, do your homework and study for exams ~~all~~ without someone telling you to do it. While you learn in both college and high school, it is clear that their are some big differences. the next time your thinking about the difference between the two, remember that college has more freedom but it ~~is~~ also comes with more responsibility.