

Writing strong introductions

Grade 5 Writing Worksheet

Pretend you are writing an essay about the topic below. Use the graphic organizer to plan your introduction paragraph.

Topic: Select a landmark in your country that you think everyone should visit and describe why.

Write a hook: Capture the reader's attention!
Give the reader background information: What is something useful they could learn about the topic to help them better understand your writing?
Topic Sentence: What will your essay be mostly about?
Reason #1 (in brief): Quick one-sentence summary of what you'll talk about in the first body paragraph.
Reason #2 (in brief): Quick one-sentence summary of what you'll talk about in the second body paragraph.
Reason #3 (in brief): Quick one-sentence summary of what you'll talk about in the third body paragraph.

Then write your paragraph:
